Speaker Introduction: About Pat Roque

A box of ROCKS changed her world...and can change yours, too.

Pat Roque has been a loyal Valley Bank customer for 30 years. She founded her company in 1988, yet a midlife meltdown sparked her own pivot and her mess became her message. She and her box of 50 ROCKS (yes, rocks) have transformed lives and careers through her proprietary Rock On Success Coaching System and Mastermind.

Whether helping 1:1, in group coaching, or inspiring you from the stage, her audiences gain confidence, leadership effectiveness, career fulfillment and a rock-solid future. Pat is a fierce advocate for strength-based culture, virtual teams, women's leadership, diversity and inclusion at organizations including Novartis, KPMG, Konica Minolta and Bank of America. Her acclaimed Rock Your Strength workshops drive collaboration, engagement, and productivity. Pat's message impacts worldwide audiences as a top LinkedIn Career Coach and SHRM (Society for Human Resource Managers) Preferred Provider. She's known for driving business through golf and serves on the boards of several golf and health charities.

Pat earned her master's degree in organizational leadership online through Thomas Edison University, where her thesis on the benefits of virtual teams earned accolades in 2000 (before 9-11). She then became a global brand ambassador for the university, extolling the benefits of e-learning as yet another key ingredient to optimizing remote workforces. Pat is an influencer and a preferred partner with Thinkfic, a Vancouver-based learning management platform that powers her Rock On Success Academy.

As a mom of 2 college grads and a rescue puppy, Bella, she's been happily married for 27 years. Pat coaches clients around the globe and leads by example, enjoying her productive laptop life in Wayne NJ, and Myrtle Beach, SC.

Thanks, Pat...you rock! S
